

In Loving Memory of Peter S. Jacobs 1928 - 2011

Born in Ipswich, England, Peter grew up knowing he would be an artist. He attended art school in Ipswich and later served in the British Air Force (ground crew) after World War II in Germany. Peter found the love of his life in Germany. After getting married in 1948, they had two boys while living in Ipswich followed by two girls after moving to Toronto. In 1968, the Jacobs family moved to Vancouver. Peter used his sign writing and renovation talents to create a family with his wife of love, creativity and hard work. Peter passed away during his sleep on September 12, 2011 after singing quietly to himself just 30 minutes prior to his heart failing. We miss him dearly.

Peter built his sign business in Toronto and then Vancouver. He specialized in hand lettering, gold leaf, wall illustrations, graphics, air brushing, electric signs, job development signs and renderings. One claim to fame was he made concrete statues of jockeys and painted the winning colours of the Jockey's silks onto these statues - 14 horse races per year at Hastings Race Track. He did beautiful work for his customers with his wife right beside him taking care of the business side of the company. Many of his signs could be seen on sides of buildings, cars, trucks, boats, buses, doors, and windows. In his spare time, he completely renovated three homes that his family lived in. Peter was a true artist who taught us to paint our own future, to draw on our strengths and talents, and to build our own families.

Even though his wife loves flowers, she would like in memoriam gifts to be sent to help students at the Emily Carr University of Art and Design. Dad would have liked this as he taught all of us his talents and he would encourage any artists to explore theirs.
